Bright, practical helpful and thoroughly interesting is the September issue of "Fashions."

The fiction of the number is furnished by Opie Read and Octave Thanet, the former a breezy Western story, the latter the beginning of a serial.

Early autumn styles are shown in bewildering array, the French houses of Worth, Virot, Paquin and metropolitan designers being liberally represented, and, as usual, Diana Du Bois contributes enough suggestions for the home dressmaker to keep her thoroughly in touch with all the latest fabrics and trimmings.

A variety of short articles for various members of the family, and the usual departments of Wit and Humor, Best Stories, Graphology, Physiognomy and Horoscope complete the number.

WRECK AND FIRE.

A Fearful Disaster on the Santa Fe Railroad.

Two Passenger Trains Collide Near Emporia, Kas.

Ten Persons Killed and Many More Injured.

W. J. Bryan in the Wreck But Escaped Unhurt.

The Democratic Leader Was the Hero of the Hour.

Fearful Scenes Above the Wreck—Disposition of Bodies Caused the Disaster.

EMPORIA, Kas., Sept. 9.—Last night's head-end collision on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe proves the worst disaster that has occurred on that system in many years. Ten people were killed outright or soon died of their injuries, and fifteen others were more or less seriously injured. One or two of the wounded may succumb. That the wreck did not result more seriously seems miraculous. A baggage carriage of coolers caused the wreck.

William J. Bryan, who was a passenger on one of the trains, escaped uninjured.

Mr. Bryan was one of the noblest men in the crowd of rescuers. He helped to carry out the dead and wounded and gave the greatest attention to their care.

Following is the list of killed and injured as announced by the railroad officials:

Killed—Joseph Branhan, engineer; Nate Hollister, engineer; Benjamin Walters, fireman; Edward Yanosivi, fireman; unknown boy, stealing ride. Missing—Joseph Stuart, baggageman. Injured—W. Fritchen, engineer; W. F. Jones, postal clerk; W. C. McHead, postal clerk; C. J. Holliday, postal clerk; E. O. McGee, postal clerk; R. Doran, postal clerk; ——Patrick, brakeman; C. A. Van Cleve, brakeman; T. J. Button, passenger, Cottonwood Falls; F. B. Wallack, passenger, Atchison.

The wrecked trains were the fastest in the service—the fast mail, east bound, and the California and Mexico express, west bound. Each was running at the rate of forty miles an hour or over. The wreck occurred at 7:30 last evening, three miles east of Emporia, on a small culvert that crosses a dry stream. The culvert was not more than ten feet wide, and the foremost engine of the west bound train had spanned it when the collision occurred. The embankment approaches to this culvert were about ten feet high. This added to the danger. The wreck was caused by the miscarriage of orders from the train dispatcher. The conductor of the east bound train was ordered at Emporia to meet and pass the California flyer at Lang, seven miles east. An order sent to Lang to the conductor of the west bound train for him to wait there was not delivered and he supposed he was to pass at Emporia. Each train was hurrying—one to Emporia, the other to Lang—and met at full speed on the main line. The California train was almost an hour late and, owing to Mr. Bryan's lecture engagement at Burlingame, was crowded to the guards with excursionists returning home. The west bound train carried eight passenger coaches, and all were crowded. The conductor and brakeman were getting their lanterns ready for Emporia, only three miles away. There was no warning signal. The west bound train was going around a slight curve and met the fast mail probably within 300 feet. There was a shock as if the train had bumped up against a stone wall. Then there was an explosion, a crashing sound, an uncertain movement of the coaches and all the lights went out. Those who were in the first coach in the westbound train were left in total darkness and they were soon realized the peril of their position, for the coaches were filled with steam and smoke. The westbound train was drawn by two locomotives and when they struck the fast mail all three of the engines exploded and tore a hole in the track so deep that the smoking car of the westbound train went on top of the wreck of the three engines and two mail cars, and balanced there without turning over. Those in this car who escaped through the windows came very near turning the car over, in which event the fatality would have been much greater, as this car soon caught fire from the exploded engines underneath it and burned to ashes in no time.

Wm. J. Bryan was interviewed by a reporter as to his experience in the collision:

"I have traveled thousands upon thousands of miles on railroads and I never was in a wreck before. I did not feel the shock very severely where I was, but from the way things looked I cannot for the life of me see why we were not all killed. The scene here presented is the most terrible I have ever seen. It has made an impression on me that cannot leave me during my life time."

Mr. Bryan requested the correspondent not to mention him as taking any unusual part in the matter. "Is it true you were the first man to reach the ground from your car and go to the rescue of those who were injured?" he was asked.

"Please don't say anything about that," Mr. Bryan replied, with a deprecating gesture.

From passengers present it was learned that Mr. Bryan was the first person to rush forward to the assistance of the victims; that he assisted to carry the first body recovered, and that as long as there was any necessity he was foremost in the work. Mr. Bryan, accompanied by David Lindsey, a Topeka newspaper man, were in the smoking coach of the west bound train. They were discussing the day's events at Burlingame, where the Nebraskan had been the attraction of thousands of people, when they heard a crash, then an explosion. In a moment the lights went out and steam and gas from the coal smoke filled the car. Before they could make a move, the car pushed forward with tremendous force and it seemed to them in the debris like a crippled ship at sea. Every moment they expected it to turn over. The car finally stopped, and as it did so, began to catch fire from below. The two men jumped out of the same window without their hats or baggage, which were afterwards burned, and escaped practically without a scratch.

Mr. Bryan reached Emporia about midnight and remained at the hotel till this morning when he resumed his journey.

Many acts of bravery and nerve were displayed. Claude Hollister, of Topeka, had both his legs broken and shattered in half a dozen places. When his rescuers had him on the grass beside the track he turned to one of the group and asked if he would pull through. When assured that he would live if he was brave he said: "Am I not brave? Look at my legs dangling and then ask me to be brave. I suppose they will have to be amputated, but I will bear the operation and live through it. I do not propose to die for lack of nerve and courage. My God, what has become of my comrades?"

William Frichen, engineer of the fast mail, whose residence is in Topeka, was conscious until he died. He said:

"I did not see the other train until I came upon it. I turned on the air and jumped. I presume I cannot recover, but I will do as bravely as I can. I want you men to leave me and help victims that are more unfortunate than I am."

A. B. Adams, who is among the injured, was on his way to Mexico from New Jersey with registered bonds amounting to $600,000 and a great deal of other valuables. They were all burned in the fire that followed.

OVERTIME WORK.

British Trades Union Congress Denounces the Practice.

The Same Body Also Denounces the Law Which Imposes Fines on Workers and Allows Blacklisting.

BRUNSWICK, Eng., Sept. 9.—The Trades Union Congress today adopted a resolution recommending all societies affiliated with the congress to by all means possible restrict or abolish overtime in their respective trades. The following resolution was then adopted:

"That this congress is of the opinion that the law as it relates to intimidations during strikes or lockouts is unfair and unjust, as it punishes by fines or imprisonment any worker judged guilty of assaulting or preventing through fear other workers from working, while allowing employers to blacklist workers or to discharge or obtain the discharge of workers who may have been on a strike or locked out, thus intimidating workers from pursuing their lawful employment." The parliamentary committee of the congress was instructed to at once move to extend the law in the requisite direction. Resolutions against child labor were also introduced.

BROKERS FAIL.

Big New York Firm and Others at Washington Go Under.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—James K. Willard, Elmer Dennistoun and Jay Livingston, who compose the firm of J. K. Willard & Co., bankers and brokers, with offices in this city, Buffalo, N. Y., Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and Montreal, today assigned to Jas. L. Starbuck, with preferences for $20,000 to Wm. H. Cothrost. No statement of the condition of the firm is yet obtainable, but it is estimated that their liabilities will reach $1,000,000. Jay Livingston is at present traveling in Europe.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Geo. W. Sibley & Co., brokers in stocks and grains, suspended today. Sibley had branches in several cities and was patronized by numerous small speculators. This is his third suspension.

WIFE MURDERER DEAD.

James Robinson Succumbs to Tuberculosis While in Prison.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Sept. 9.—James Robinson, who on the night of August 8 brutally murdered his wife by cutting her throat at their home at Fieldsboro, near Bordentown, died in the county jail here last night of tuberculosis. After the murder of his wife Robinson attempted suicide by slashing his throat with a razor. He was treated for a time at the hospital, since which time he has been in the jail here.

ONE MORE DAY.

The Teachers' Institute Will Close Tomorrow.

Mrs. Ford and Dr. Dennis Continue on the Program Today—Professor Wolf Will Be Heard.

The institute opened this morning with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. J. S. Amelon, after which the audience sang the "Star Spangled Banner." This was followed by a duet, sung by Miss Leah Long and Miss Evans. Mr. Adams, who will shortly open a school of oratory in this city, gave an excellent reading of "Poe's Raven."

Mrs. Ford commenced the work of the day by giving an exceedingly good talk on the "Manufacturing Industries of the world." If the teachers can retain all Mrs. Ford gives this week, they will have a large fund of information on the industries of the world, to impart to their pupils this coming year.

Dr. Dennis again resumed his talk on the "Teaching of Science in the Grades." His work of the week will give a comprehensive view of how natural science should be presented in the grades. Dr. Dennis insists that the character of the children will be formed by the mental food given them during their school years. Notwithstanding the fact that Dr. Dennis' talks contain a great amount of detail, the interest of the teachers is still unabated.

Prof. Snuff, of the Tri-State Normal, gave an instructive talk on "Method in Percentage." Although he, himself, said it was not a subject for eloquence, he showed ability as a talker. Prof. Snuff urged the fact that each one must do his own thinking. And only true principles are authority on arithmetic.

The program tomorrow will be as follows:

9:00—Devotion, Rev. E. F. Albertson.

9:15—Music, Prof. Miles.

9:30—"Learning to Read," Mrs. Ford.

10:15—Rest.

10:20—"Science in the Grades," Dr. Dennis.

11:10—"Geography in Its Relation to History," Prof. Study.

ENDED A DRAW.

Fistics Keep the Sporting Men Right in the Prize Ground.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The police stopped the Ryan-McCoy fight here last night in the fifth round. Inspector O'Brien stopped the gong and amid the wildest confusion Referee George Siler, of Chicago, sent the men to their corners and announced that the fight was a draw.

Up to the fifth round the contest was as pretty a one as has ever been seen in this state, with the honors in Ryan's favor. The "kid" long left played havoc with Ryan's face during the first two rounds, but after that Ryan started infighting, and when the inspector stopped the boat was giving considerable punishment with left upper cuts in a series of rushes that were sending McCoy all over the ring.

Both men were still strong, however, and as both were in beautiful condition there is no reason to believe that the fight would not have lasted a number of rounds longer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The National club has wired "Kid" McCoy challenging him to meet Joe Walcott in this city. If McCoy does not care to accept the offer is open to Tommy Ryan. Any weight is acceptable to Walcott's manager, Tom O'Rourke.

ROCKED THE BOAT.

Six of a Pleasure Party Drowned at Dunnell.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 9.—As a result of the capsizing of the yacht Blanche B. in Lake St. Clair, yesterday afternoon, six men lost their lives and six others either swam ashore or were picked up by row boats. The dead are:

Thomas Newcome, a driver.

Herman Gerken, a cigarmaker.

Jay Tanney, a printer.

Thomas Fritz, a sailor.

Charles Rice, aged twenty, a driller.

The party started out from Fisher's dock early in the afternoon. When somewhat over a mile from shore, between Peche Island and Lighthouse Bay, two climbed into the cross trees, while two others at the end of the boom began to rock the boat. Little by little she tipped and filled and then went down beneath their feet, leaving them to struggle in the water.

FOREST FIRES.

The Black Hills Country Is Being Severely Swept by Flames.

BUFFALO, Wyo., Sept. 9.—The forest fire which has been burning for two or three weeks in the Black Horn country continues unabated and is spreading rapidly, fanned by a high gale. Already about twenty miles square are reported covered and millions of feet of timber destroyed. The settlers have fought the fire constantly until forced to give up. There is no prospect of rain and unless something is done by the government there is no limit to the loss which may be sustained. Another fire is reported over the divide in Big Horn county.

FOUND THE FLAG.

Pledge of the Lost Cadette Recovered from Spanish Waters.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The state department is informed that the standard 14 foot United States ensign, which went down with the Vandalia when that war vessel was wrecked in the tidal wave at the port of Apia, Samoa, has been recovered and presented to the United States consul general's office at Apia. It is carried on the property returns of that consulate and is highly valued as a historic relic.

SONS OF VETERANS

Gather at the Capital and Capture the State House.

Charles A. Bookwalter, in Behalf of the City, Extends a Welcome to the Five Hundred Delegates.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 9.—All things at the state house had an intense military bearing this morning. At the east entrance to the capitol a big brass cannon looked down Market street toward Monument place. The broad, and corridors inside of the building were festooned with flags and bunting. Under the high, blue dome and a gatling gun and cannon and small arms were stacked about promiscuously. Unarmed men and women, wearing long red white and blue badges, came in the capitol and entered the halls which had been set apart for their accommodations.

The occasion of this military display was the meeting of the sixteenth annual encampment, Sons of Veterans of the United States army. The first session opened in the hall of representatives at 10 o'clock, and was called to order by President J. L. Rake. Five hundred delegates were present. President Rake delivered his annual address, after which Charles A. Bookwalter extended the welcome of the state to the visitors.

Tonight the governor will hold a reception in honor of the Sons of Veterans, and tomorrow the parade of 2,000 marchers will take place.

IT'S YELLOW JACK.

But Not in Its Most Malignant Form.

Three Days Dr. Salmon, an Expert in the Treatment of Yellow Fever and Kindred Disorders.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9.—Sheray Seymour died at 7 o'clock at Ocean Springs of the prevailing fever. As soon as his death was reported arrangements were made to hold an autopsy this morning, beginning at 9 o'clock, and that ceremony is now in progress. Doctors Carter and Wardin, of the Marine Hospital service, and Doctors Lehman, Dunn, Gant and Bailey are present. It is confidently expected that this autopsy will completely determine the character of the disease that is prevailing at the Springs, as the case of Seymour is probably a fair type of the worst cases at the Springs. The excitement at New Orleans is rapidly dying out, but deep interest is being taken in the situation on the coast. When the board of health office opened this morning and got down to work, it had no new cases or suspicious cases to report as having occurred in New Orleans. Details for canvassing the city have been so systematized now that no section is left unattended, and every case of fever, no matter how trifling, is receiving the earnest attention of the experts. Much gratification is expressed over the appointment of Dr. Rudolph Matas as the head of the special commission representing the physicians of the city to cooperate with the officials of the board of health.

Morning trains from the coast towns brought few passengers this morning. There is no longer any travel out of the city to the coast towns and everybody who intended to come to New Orleans has already turned up. Dr. Salmon's report as to the existence of two cases of yellow fever at Scranton is considered reliable and Dr. Salmon has been authorized to cooperate with the local physicians there in the efforts to isolate the cases and stamp out the disease. Dr. Salmon says the fever is yellow jack, but is of a mild type.

Rigid quarantine will be enforced against Scranton. The government expert will probably be asked to go there and also to Pelkinston to definitely determine the character of the disease. Dr. Salmon has had much experience and was for many years secretary of the board, and much confidence is felt in his knowledge of the symptoms of yellow fever. More reports reach the city of the hardships which the people in the quarantined towns are suffering. They find difficulty in getting provisions and other supplies and are registering a large seed lack against the restrictions. The authorities are endeavoring to find some means of helping them out of their difficulties. No new cases are reported at Biloxi this morning. The people are anxiously awaiting the arrival of Drs. Hutcraus, Murray and Carter. They will be perfectly satisfied with their diagnosis. Dr. Tucker, who went to Perkinston to visit Dr. Sheedy, who had been in attendance on patients in Ocean Springs, has returned and reports that Dr. Sheedy has yellow fever. Sheedy himself says the symptoms are those of yellow fever.

A perfect gem is a rare thing. We have one, and would be pleased to show you it. Dallas F. Green, No. 2 Arcade.

UNHAPPY ERIN.

Ireland Again Threatened With Famine.

Her Harvests Are Ruined and the City of Dublin Is Rising Upon Her People.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Lamentable reports continue to pour in from all parts of Ireland of the havoc already wrought among the crops, and as the weather still is most inauspicious, all hope of saving the remnant of the harvest is fast fading away.

The English press is beginning now to realize the situation, though it is maintaining its gravity. The St. James Gazette says:

"The potato crop has failed everywhere, and there is something to excuse the alarmist language of those who are beginning to talk of a great famine, but distress on that scale is no more likely than another invasion by barbarians. Yet there will be a measure of suffering in Ireland really more terrible than that which the professional agitator is beginning to predict."

The "professional agitator" has made no prediction in the present instance. The cry has come from the people all over the country. English tourists are writing to the press describing the ruined harvest they have everywhere seen.

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

Starke county is becoming a resort for prize fighters and mills are frequent.

A female swindler with five children honored Milford in rehearts the other day.

Wabash county is happy, or at any rate should be. The fine have all left that county.

William Mahoney, of Dawson Park, Chicago, was accidentally killed by a train at Walkerton.

It has been discovered that lands in Wabash county were leased for oil purposes thirty-five years ago.

A gang of chicken thieves operating in Cass and Miami counties is said to find a market in Indianapolis.

O. H. Downey, editor of the Kendallville News, has purchased the incandescent lighting plant in that city.

Deputy fish commissioners have paid Fulton county another visit, and in the last few days three arrests have been made.

The common council of Rensselaer has purchased the electric light plant, consideration $7,500. Possession will be given October 1.

It is reported that gold has been found on Yellow river near Knox and an investigation will be made to see if it can be found in paying quantities.

Diphtheria has appeared in Jay county, a number of cases with several deaths having been reported. In Portland one family has been placed in quarantine.

Sudern, a contractor on a sewer at Michawaka, was caught yesterday by the bank falling in, and was crushed to death. He was ex-city marshal and an old soldier.

The Indiana conference of the ministers of the Wesleyan Methodist church will be held at Bryant, Jay county, on September 15. One hundred ministers are expected to be in attendance.

Mrs. Stoneroad, of Laporte county, yesterday, was trampled to death by a vicious cow. Before assistance could reach her the crazed animal had dragged the unfortunate woman about the field, inflicting ghastly wounds.

C. O. Conn, of Elkhart, is about to commence the manufacture of stringed instruments at his factory. He has just purchased the buildings of the Elkhart Knitting company for $6,000 and these will be utilized for the new branch.

According to Governor Mount this state has paid out in premiums to fire insurance companies $50,000,000 in a short term of years, while it has received back only $25,000,000 in losses. The governor regards this as argument in favor of home insurance companies.

A fourteen year old son of Isaac Stutesman, residing near Elkhart, died from a hay mow in such a way as to strike upon a splintered handle of a pitch fork and penetrated the body to the depth of five inches, breaking the cervix bone and inflicting a bad injury.

Workmen at Inwood, Marshall county, while repairing a school house, found the body of an infant child, 1 or 2 weeks old, wrapped in rags and deposited in a tower in inside weather boarding. The child was doubtless killed and placed there to conceal the crime.

A cablegram from India reports the death of the Rev. George H. Lambert, of Waterloo, who went to that country in April to supervise the distribution of $17,000 among the famine sufferers. He was the accredited representative of the Methodist church, the relief fund being contributed by that denomination. Mr. Lambert was forty years of age. His remains will be interred in Bombay.

Norman R. Stoner has filed a $200,000 bond and succeeded John J. Kinsley as treasurer of Fulton county. Mr. Stoner is probably the youngest man ever elected to so important a position in the state. When elected he was but twenty-four years old. He is a native of Kosciusko county, where he lived until he was nineteen years old, when he accepted the position of cashier in the Akron Exchange bank. He continued in this position until yesterday, when he qualified as county treasurer. A younger brother succeeds him in the bank.

Arthur Vanator, of Warsaw, met his death from a peculiar cause at Wilbraham, Ohio. Vanator and several others were working in the woods, when one of the number pulled a bottle of liver pills from his pocket and took one. The bottle by request was passed to another of the party, who took six; the bottle was passed on to Vanator and he took thirteen all at once. He died in fearful agony and was buried yesterday at Warsaw. Vanator leaves a wife and child.

WILLIAM C. YOUNG.

Former Fort Wayne Citizen Dies at Chicago.

Funeral of Henry B. Ayres This Morning—Ashes of Cyrus H. Oakley Shipped to Wilmington.

William C. Young, for twenty-five years a resident of this city, died Tuesday morning, at Chicago. The remains arrived here at 1 o'clock this afternoon, and the funeral took place at 10 o'clock from Butler's undertaking establishment. Interment was held at Lindenwood cemetery. Mr. Young was a sculptor and marble worker, and was well known here. Two years ago he went to Chicago to reside, engaging in business there. A widow, one daughter, and a son survive him. The son, Fred Young, the painter, is very well known here.

M. H. V. Young, of Detroit, who organized the Tri-State Building and Loan association, is a brother of the deceased. He arrived to attend the funeral.

OTHER DEATHS.

Last night Floren Scheer, a Frenchman, died at Hope hospital of brain fever. He was arrested one day last week in the Pennsylvania railroad yards and locked up. He acted queer at that time but the officers thought he was either crazy or suffering from the effects of a spree. Soon after going to jail he grew worse and at the instruction of Dr. Schrader he was removed to the hospital. Nothing is known of the man's life and it is likely his body will be turned over to the medical colleges. He was about thirty eight years old.

The ashes of Cyrus H. Oakley, whose body was cremated at Lindenwood, were this morning shipped to the quartermaster of Grand Army post, No. 96, at Chilton, Wis. That city was his former home, although of late years he resided at Hunterdown. The ashes filled a small box and weighed only five pounds.

The funeral of Henry B. Ayres took place this morning from the undertaking parlors of J. C. Peltier. The pall bearers were 18th Green, Martin Deiner, C. H. Wonderth, Thomas Hanna, W. L. Meibering and George Lesch, all of whom were intimately acquainted with the deceased when he resided in this city.

The funeral of Mrs. Louisa Manth will take place tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the residence and 2:30 o'clock from the St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. Miller officiating.

The funeral of Sigmund Oppenheim, of Bluffton, will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 9.—The work of evicting the striking miners at Plum Creek and Clarksville was begun today and as the result of two evictions serious trouble is threatened by a mob of women who are armed with clubs and base ball bats, and are waiting for the arrival of Superintendent Jones Armit and the deputy sheriffs.

PLUNGED TO DEATH.

An Aeronaut's Fatal Fall at Chattanooga, Ma. Ram Evening.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Sept. 9.—Prof. Bossart, the aeronaut, made a balloon ascension at 5 o'clock last evening at the fair grounds and was fatally injured by the failure of his parachute to open readily when he made his descent.

He was about 200 feet in the air when he cut loose and before his parachute opened he was less than fifty feet from the ground.

His injuries are such that his recovery is considered impossible.

SUNNY SKIES

Smiled Brightly Upon Our Agricultural Interests Today.

Times Were Not in Large Numbers at the Farmers' Picnic—A Splendid Program Carried Out.

Louis Heilbroner and the weather man got their heads together and fixed it all up in fine shape for the farmers today. It was old saying that "the farmer makes hay when the sun shines." That this is one day that the adage didn't hold good. The sun did its share by shining right along all day at the rate of between ninety and one hundred in the shade, and causing the sweat to roll off the brows of the honest people who came in swarms from the country districts to celebrate Farmers' day at Robison park.

By noon the park cars had carried out about 5,000 people and were still well patronized. The program consisted of a balloon ascension by the LeRoy sisters, assisted by Prof. Henry Snider; an old-fashioned barbecue, at which eight good sized beeves were served free; a band concert by the Maysville band, H. P. Walters, leader; a game of base ball between the Arcade and Maysville teams; numerous old-fashioned games; a dance to the tunes furnished by the Springfield orchestra, led by Leo Lopshire, and the regular theatre performance. With all of these attractions to select from the farmers and their families were made to feel that everything was there for their one day. Everybody had a grand, glorious time.

MUNICIPAL TALK.

Board of Works Will Let Several Contracts Tonight.

New Sidewalks in South Wayne Will be Commenced Next Monday—Judge Committee Meeting.

This evening the board of works will let several contracts. One will be for a new sidewalk on South Fairfield avenue, from Creighton avenue to Organ avenue, which will be the largest sidewalk contract let this season. The contract for a new sidewalk on South Broadway, from Park avenue to the limits of Highlands addition, will also be let. Another contract to be awarded is that of a sewer in the alley between Washington and Wayne streets, from Clinton avenue to the western limits of South's addition.

JOINT MEETING.

City Clerk Mossing is notifying the members of the waterworks and finance committees to meet with the waterworks trustees next Monday evening and try to come to a decision in the matter of purchasing the Pape land for well purposes.

MAY FIGHT IT.

Opposition to the Vehicle Tax is Developing.

An Attempt Being Made to Organize for the Purpose of Making a Test Case to Knock It Out.

A self-appointed committee is calling upon liverymen and other owners of vehicles and bicycles for the purpose of enlisting enough support to fight the vehicle tax in this city. It is the purpose to engage some of the best legal talent and make a test case to declare the law unconstitutional. The fact that the law was declared unconstitutional in Chicago and some other places has given the opposition here courage to undertake the fight. The success of the committee will be made known after a thorough canvass, which will be completed tomorrow.

GONE IS LUETHI.

Sudden Disappearance of a Fort Wayne Tailor.

A Lucrative Tailor Unfortunately Missing—Gone Is Notice of His Departure to Family or Friends.

Alexander Luethi, a tailor at 25 Calhoun street, has been missing for three days and there is no clue that might lead to his discovery. Last Monday morning Luethi did not appear at his place of business as usual, nor did he return home the night previous. His family is seriously alarmed over the man's continued and unexplained absence. Mr. Luethi has been domestic in his habits and thought a good deal of his family. As he had no trouble to impair a rash leave taking, there is cause to believe that harm has befallen him.

MAY LEAVE US.

R. L. Ronay Will Probably Dispose of Fort Wayne Interests and Move.

It will be a matter of regret to many Fort Wayne citizens to learn that R. L. Ronay is now interested in a deal by which he will disposed nearly all of his property and move to the west. Mr. Ronay was in Chicago consulting with parties interested a few days ago and he expects to go there again the latter part of this week to close the final business connected with the transfer.

Mr. Ronay has been a resident of Allen county thirty two years, and was for a considerable portion of that time identified with Fort Wayne's progress in various ways. He has accumulated a snug fortune. Various enterprises will suffer by his absence. Mr. Ronay states that his principal reason for leaving is to locate in a different climate, where he can recuperate his health. He says there is a possibility of his moving back to Fort Wayne after several years, but will not say that he will positively do so.

BICYCLE SMASH-UP.

Herbert and Roy Tigar Meet With an Accident.

Bicycles Damaged Horses Frightened and Other Mishaps, Some of Them Serious.

This morning Herbert and Roy Tigar, the sons of Councilman W. H. Tigar, were riding a bicycle tandem on West Berry street, when a careless wheelman who was riding with his hands off the handle bars, collided with their machine. A serious wreck resulted, all of the riders being thrown to the pavement. The Tigar boys were badly bruised and the front wheel of the tandem was bent out of shape.

STRUCK BY A STREET CAR.

A West Main street car struck a farmer's wagon near Lindenwood cemetery this morning. The vehicle was overturned and the occupants spilled out but nobody was injured.

BALLOON BURNED.

As Miss LeRoy was preparing to make a balloon ascension at Robison park yesterday afternoon, the balloon caught fire and was totally destroyed. It took only a few minutes for the flames to get in their work. Professor Snyder, who manages the ascensions, stated that the accident would not interfere with the ascension today. He telegraphed at once for another balloon and it arrived today.

RUN DOWN BY CARELESS DRIVER.

Theodore Schulze, a twelve year-old boy living on High street, was run down by a careless driver last night. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken home, where Dr. McCausland examined his injuries. He was seriously, though not dangerously hurt, several wounds being inflicted on his head and seven teeth knocked out.

RUNAWAY FRIGHTENED.

Last evening a horse driven by George DeWald took fright on Hoagland avenue and turned sud-denly, throwing Mr. DeWald to the pavement. Fortunately he was not injured.

A horse driven by Mr. Raben was frightened by a street car in front of the Hamilton bank last evening. The street was crowded with vehicles at the time and, but for the skillful handling of the reins by Mr. Raben, a serious accident might have resulted.

FRACTURED LEG.

Mrs. Gilbert, of Hanson avenue, while alighting from her carriage last night, fell to the ground, fracturing the bones of one leg.

STRUCK A SNAG.

An Obstacle Appears in the Strike Settlement.

Ohio and Pennsylvania Would Be the Beneficiaries of the Proposed Plan—Other Districts Would Suffer.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 9.—The national convention of United Mine Workers has struck a snag. Among the delegates has grown a feeling that even were the strike settled, Ohio and Pennsylvania would be the beneficiaries. There are men of this belief in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia, the two first states being practically unanimous.

President Knight and Secretary Kennedy, of Indiana, believe a settlement on the basis proposed would adjust matters in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and eastern Illinois, but would have little or no effect in northern Illinois. These men are substantially in favor of a continuance of the strike.

The delegates from Indiana and Illinois, so far as can be learned, as the session is being held with closed doors, are acting in harmony. Certain Ohio delegates are standing by West Virginia, as a settlement without advantage to that section from the miners' point of view would be tantamount to the miners' unions losing the ground it has gained there. Some Indiana and Illinois delegates feel that they have been made the cat's paw of the movement. They say they have time and time again struck at the request of other districts and when such districts gained what they wanted the contest would be declared off, leaving Indiana and Illinois without substantial benefit.

The Massillon, Ohio, delegation is numbered among those who object to a settlement as proposed.

President Carson, of North Illinois, says they will stay out whether the strike is settled or not.

For that the public is not allowed unrestricted access to the enclosure about the new court house there is a reason which is readily understood and fully appreciated by all sensible persons. Progress of the work and the safety of limb and life require that large crowds be kept away. There will not be if the gates were thrown open without reservation. Moreover, the county agent has been with the more trained over to the contractors, who are of opinion pursue their own methods to avoid life and to secure their workmen from interruption. However, it will be no difficult matter for those who want to enter to get permission to do so.

The Future of Farming.

While the hard times have fallen with particular stress upon agriculture in this country and much has been said and written of the gradual disintegration of the independence of the farmer, it is none the less true that there is no vocation whose future is brighter with promise than that of the American husbandman.

It will not be long until rural telephone systems will place farmers in indestructible touch with not only his neighbors but the markets, with all the accruing advantages that are sequential to such condition, and natural profits that now go to waste will go into the farmer's pocket. Interurban electric railways will make towns and cities easy of daily visit, put him within quick access to all the advantages of culture, refinement and healthful pleasure that centers of population must hold over rural districts. The farmer can attend the lecture, the opera, be member of the club, being himself in contact with the affirmative and aggressive minds he now has little opportunity to cultivate; in short, he will and do all that he could if he lived in town or city. Free rural mail delivery is a successful experiment and is nearer at hand than many people imagine. Daily delivery of the newspapers of the metropolis will become the farmer's mental stimulus and his horizon will broaden as it must with the intimate knowledge of all that the great busy world is doing. Free rural public libraries will bring him in contact with all the genius of our civilization and rural high schools will place superior education within reach of his children. All these things will be his, his wife's and his next of generation. Life on the farm will be robbed of its drudgery and isolation and will be environed by all that culture, refinement and art have to bestow. Science and intelligence united to all that inventive genius can bring to aid will wrung with easy hand nature's riches from the soil, and adjusted conditions which must come from the inevitable triumph of exact justice to all classes of men will make agricultural pursuits not only to pay as well as any other ventures, but will also make it the most free, independent and pleasant vocation which can invite the labor of man.

All these things will be because they are a part of the force of progress.

NO CHANGE TO FOLLOW.

Mills and Miller Will Continue the Business at Wabash.

Messrs. Mills, Miller and others of the L. B. Ross & Co. store, have returned from Fort Wayne, where they attended Mr. Ross's funeral. The doors of the great dry goods store were reopened today, and business resumed.

Mr. Mills expresses the feelings of the officers and employes in an advertisement in this issue which reads as follows:

"With our hearts filled with unspeakable sorrow we open our doors for business.

"The master mind that has controlled our company for years is stilled in death, but his lofty example, his fidelity to honest business methods remains with us and spurs us on to conduct this store which was his pride in life on the same broad and liberal principles which have so far made it a success.

"Of Mr. L. B. Ross can truly be said: His life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him that nature might stand up and say to all the world, this was a man."

Mr. Mills was in New York during the last two weeks of Mr. Ross's sickness. He said to a Gazette writer today that his death came as a great surprise and shock to Mrs. Ross and to himself. They had no thought of a fatal termination until shortly before the last. Mr. Ross had been in pretty good health all summer but about three weeks before his death was taken down with typhoid fever. He lay sleepy or half unconscious most of the time and took the medicine and nourishment given him and did not care to talk or to be talked to. He did not at any time seem dangerously sick. He had passed in safety the crisis at twenty one days. The night before his death the doctor was up with him all night and at 6 o'clock the next morning he died.

His sister, Mrs. Sidney Lincoln, of Steubenville, Mass., and Mrs. Rood's sister, Mrs. M. C. Ewing, of Fort Wayne, came on to New York to meet Mrs. Rood.

In speaking of the business Mr. Mills said that it would continue the same as heretofore. Mrs. Rood will be in Terre Haute this fall to give the business some attention, but it is her purpose to make her residence in Fort Wayne, where she has two sisters, instead of in New York.

Unjust Taxation.

(To the Editor of The Sentinel.)

I notice by a recent issue of THE SENTINEL that the city comptroller has called to his aid the police force with a view of aiding him in the collection of the bicycle tax. It seems to me that as long as corrective measures are going to be taken to collect this tax, which has been declared unconstitutional elsewhere, cyclists should organize at once with the object of offsetting the raid which is about to be made on their members. We have paid taxes on our bicycles, which are included in our personal property, then we are asked to pay an additional tax for the privilege of riding on roads and streets, which, through neglect, in place of affording comfort and pleasure, become a real effort. If the money that has been paid in from year to year had been expended in improving the streets and crossings and regulating the sprinkling wagons we would say nothing, but inasmuch as the streets are getting worse and worse every year it seems time for somebody to take action in this matter. I am satisfied that if any effort were made on the part of the authorities to improve the streets by putting in a better quality of road bed at the sides of the streets, at any rate, cyclists, who have now become more numerous than ever, would have no hesitation in paying the tax that they knew was being applied for their comfort and benefit, but we have three years experience to show that nothing whatever has been done in return for the large amount of money paid in by cyclists in the form of road tax. I would like to see the Democratic association which I believe was organized partly for this purpose take this matter up in earnest and see that we get justice either one way or the other.

WILL HUNT BIG GAME.

Two Stewart Young Men Who Want to Bag Game.

Two stewart young Englishmen came to America recently on their way around the world. They are russians, and their names are J. N. Telcoe and Wickham Telcoe. The father of the former has large mining interests in Wyoming, which young Telcoe acknowledged, have panned out exceedingly well, and these two on their way around will invest $50,000 additional in the same locality.

"Our trip is partly a pleasure one," said one of the pair. "We have our rifles with us and expect to have a try at game in Montana this autumn. There we will cross the Pacific and will go home through Siberia, where we expect to have some more big shooting. We don't intend to come back to England again before next July."

The pair are evidently enthusiastic sportsmen. One said he has hunted elephants in South Africa and had bagged one himself.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

NEGROES WANTED TO GO.

All Black Klondike Fever Said the Visitor Came to Town.

"Do you you may not think that the Klondike fever struck the colored people down here yet," said Mr. J. G. Hankins of South Carolina stopping a friend near to Washington.

"It struck them hard, and the fever raged with great virulence, particularly in Charleston, for quite a period. It was true, however, to state that there was a great excitement of the mail sort as far as the negro element of our town is concerned. The men who would be rash enough to call "Klondike" on a [illegible] colored Charlestonian would be in danger of being ripped up with a razor.

"A week or so ago there appeared in Charleston one of the glibest talking dickers that ever hit the old city. He formed the rising excitement about the gold lots of Alaska with curving art, and he held forth about the wealth to be gathered just for the picking off it. He had his audience well sugar coated. At the proper time he springs his scheme, which was nothing more or less than the organization of Klondike clubs for the sole and exclusive benefit of the colored race. The scheme had just as much right to the gold, that any round from up there as any body, and if they didn't avail themselves of the glorious opportunity to become rich they were the biggest fools on earth. All they had to do was to join the club and get an interest in the profits that would accrue. The more money each individual contributed the more would be his share of the proceeds, and the promoter advised every body to invest every dollar that could be raised.

"Well, these people fairly tumbled over each other in subscribing to the Klondike enterprise. The stock treasurer was in no hurry, but after several days of fat collections he concluded he had worked his Charleston constituents sufficiently and decamped for fresh pastures. It is said to say that his colored employes wouldn't be worth a copper if they he shows up in their country city again. It was a great bunko game, but it can't be worked twice in the same town."—Washington Post.

KLONDIKE IN WINTER.

How the Natives of the Northwest Keep Themselves Warm.

The Eskimos of the Yukon region have learned the art of living warm with little or no fire. They can live where the thermometer is as far depressed below zero as it is below 32° Fahrenheit, and yet be comfortable with no other heat than that given by a single lamp, so enclosed by that of their own bodies.

The lamp is lighted and set in the middle of a hut so low that no one can stand upright in it. Around the rim of the hut is a shelf, generally made of frozen snow, and covered thickly with furs. On this shelf the Indians lie in their sleeping bags, crowded together as closely as they can be packed. The entrance to the hut is through a sort of a tunnel so constructed that the outer air will be entirely excluded. The hut is thus almost wholly without ventilation, and when the lamp is lighted its heat, with that of perhaps a dozen human bodies, makes it possible for any one to live through the winter in the hut, provided he can stand the unspeakable foulness of its atmosphere.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

CATS LOSE A FRIEND.

The Death of Miss Mayhew Ends a Life Devoted to the Welfare of Felines.

Lonely cats, deserted by their owners or lured from their homes by heartless boys, have lost a good friend in Miss Annie Mayhew, who died a short time ago in England. This woman was "the founder of a cats' home, and her whole time and energy are now devoted to caring for deserted and stray felines, on whose behalf she was constantly appealing to the kindly hearted. Every summer she issued an appeal through the press to persons leaving town, begging them not to forget poor pussy, leaving it to starve in an empty house.

Miss Mayhew was a firm believer in the theory that there is a happy hunting ground for animals in the future and that human beings and animals will come to their reward in the great hereafter. It is doubtful if she took that in some way pussies who had suffered great cruelties at the hands of men and women in this life might some day have their compensation.—Exchange.

SHOP AND RAIL.

Some of the Shopmen Working Twelve Hours.

Railroad Champions Between Home Portsmouth and the Lands at Which Locomotives Are Now at the Repair.

Some of the employes in the Pennsylvania shops have received instructions to work twelve hours a day until further orders. The men affected are those engaged in getting out car material in the planing mills and iron machine shop. The appropriations for the month of September is the same as for the month of August and unless it is increased later those men who are now working one time will be put upon "short" time the latter part of the month. The brass moulders, who were working upon an eight hour schedule, were this morning instructed to work ten hours per day until some badly needed material has been gotten out, when they will resume the old schedule. The employes in the east car shops are working upon an order for 500 cars and are also remodeling a number of stock cars into box cars.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

Colonel R. H. Thompson arrived here at 8:30 last evening and is now at his home on West Wayne street. With the aid of crutches he is able to get around the house slowly, but it will be some time before he will be seen on the streets again. The Toledo Bee thus gives the particulars of the accident: "R. H. Thompson, district passenger agent for the Wabash at Fort Wayne, narrowly escaped death beneath the feet of a pair of truck horses yesterday afternoon. As it was Mr. Thompson's right ankle bones were broken and he may be a cripple for life. The injured man was attempting to board a train at Thirteenth and Monroe when, by a sudden jerk, he was thrown before a truck that was passing. The driver succeeded in turning his horses in time to keep them from trampling upon Mr. Thompson's prostrate form, but one of the wheels passed over his ankle. Mr. Thompson was taken to the residence of D. K. Dunlap, district passenger agent for the Wabash at Toledo. He is one of the most popular passenger officials in the country."

CORBETT ON FIRST.

The Ex-Champion Pugilist is Today an Indian.

He is Playing First Base for Fort Wayne Against Toledo—The Home Club Wins.

INTER STATE LEAGUE.

	Won.	Lost.	Per Cent.
Toledo	72	41	.637
Fort Wayne	69	45	.605
Dayton	66	50	.569
Springfield	66	50	.569
Grand Rapids	61	54	.530
Fort Wayne	56	61	.478
Kokomo	51	66	.436
Springfield	41	76	.350
Winchester	38	78	.328

This afternoon at Lakeside park an immense crowd is witnessing the base ball game between Fort Wayne and Toledo. The star attraction is James J. Corbett, ex-champion pugilist of the world, who is playing first base for the local team. In addition to this the Indians and the Mad Hens have been for a few days been playing about the finest ball that has been seen in the Inter-State league this season.

The line up and batting order of the teams is here given:

Jim Corbett, James A. Brady, his manager, and Tom Corbett, his brother, arrived at an early hour this morning from Springfield, Ohio, where the champion played with the Governors yesterday. He retired to a bed as soon as he arrived at the Wayne hotel and slept soundly until noon. When he arose he was bright, fresh and affable and said he felt fit for the game. Mr. Brady thinks Corbett is a good ball player and could do acceptable work if he were to have proper opportunity to get into the team work of an organization, instead of playing with a new lot of men each day. As it is, Corbett has been playing the game well.

RESULTS YESTERDAY.

RAISED THE PRICE.

Contractor Schwartzkopf and the Tunnel.

There is some Doubt That He Wants to Build the Court House.

The county commissioners are now considering and will soon adopt the supplementary specifications for the construction of the court house tunnel. The altered specifications have been submitted to engineers for the Nickel Plate railway, the street car company and the city of Fort Wayne and are approved as satisfactory. There is now prospect for some construction under the Nickel Plate tracks. The commissioners are beginning to question if Louis Schwartzkopf, to whom the original tunnel contract was awarded, does not want to unload his bargain. When he had a conference recently with the commissioners regarding the proposed changes he left the board with an informal agreement as to certain estimates on new and increased figures made necessary by such changes and agreed to submit his proposition in writing. This he has done, making his figures for extras $5,250, which is to be added to the original contract price of $6,700. These supplementary figures are one-third higher than the estimate he had agreed upon with the board, whose members think perhaps the contractor does not now want the contract.

WANTS A DIVORCE.

Sarah LaBeuk has filed suit in the circuit court for divorce from Julian LaBeuk. They were married in 1892. The complaint alleges cruel treatment and that defendant threatened to kill plaintiff. They reside in the city and have no children.

The claim docket in the circuit court will be called Monday.

FOUND YELLOW OCHER.

Farmer Arkerly Has Made Millions out of This Discovery.

The day after a recent heavy storm Farmer Platt Arkerly of Dry Little, N. Y., took a walk around his farm to take account of the damage sustained. He discovered a deep gulley that had been washed out at the foot of a hill. It was something very unlike a common gulley, and upon closer examination he proved to be a yellow ocher. Farmer Arkerly gathered up the gully and found that he had discovered a vein of yellow ocher. He dug some of it out and took it home. A friend saw it and said that the yellow ocher was ocher, and in order to make certain indeed Farmer Arkerly he sent a sample to Professor Wheeler, a Bridgeport (Conn.) chemist, for analysis.

Professor Wheeler has reported that the stuff is yellow ocher and Farmer Arkerly has engaged a mining expert to visit his farm and locate the vein. At present yellow ocher is all imported from foreign countries. Should there prove to be a large quantity of it on the farm, the owner will become a rich man in a short time.

A REMARKABLE RUN.

Heavy Train Makes a Long Distance Run and That Will Not Hurt the Equipment.

Among the numerous fast runs recently made there appears to be one which did not get properly reported. It is the run of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and, though it may not break many records, it is worthy of note. The west bound New York and Chicago limited, six cars, made up 99 minutes between Fort Wayne and Chicago, running 149.2 miles in 121 minutes, or at the average rate of 73 miles an hour. The time to be deducted for stops and reductions of speed is 24 minutes, making the net speed 91.5 miles an hour.

From G. R. and I. Junction to Gobleskoar, 112.5 miles, the time was 121 minutes, equal to 56.7 miles an hour; from Hamlet to Gobleskoar, 53.4 miles, 50 minutes, rate 64.3; Wheeler to Hobart, 3.7 miles, 3 minutes, rate 74. The train was run from Plymouth to Chicago, 84 miles, without taking water. The engine was No. 147, and it was manned by Engineer Herbert and Fireman Barber. The weight of the train was 638,561 pounds. Of the trains which have heretofore made as fast time as this for such long distances few, if any, have been so heavy. Lighter trains have made better time and heavier trains have made records approaching this, but no record in which so heavy a train was run so far shows a high speed.—Railway Gazette.
